A hearing was held yesterday by Borongh President McAneny on the proposed change of grades at Park avenue and Thirty-fourth street in accordance with the plan suggested by Lloyd Collis. Representatives of Dodd, Mend & Co. and other property owners on Park avenue south of Thirty-fourth street spoke in favor of the change. The opposition was confined to owners in the immediate vicinity of the proposed improvement, who fear that their buildings will be of little value with the streets fixed at the lower level. L. Napoleon Levy pointed out that the cost of an improvement of this character ought not to be assessed against a small area in the immediate neighborhood, yet he questioned whether the cost could be legally assessed against the entire city.
